TECHNICAL TALK

Meet the instructors of the numerical control and machine shop: Melvin Corder is instructor of numerical control and Jack Moore and Cleo McGraw are machine shop instructors at the technical division. Students enter the machine shop for one year of instruction and then transfer to numerical control center for the next year. The numerical control department has been the state's numerical control center since 1970. Future plans call for the departments becoming a computerized control center.

THE MONDAY REPORT WOULD LIKE TO WISH EVERYONE A VERY HAPPY VALENTINE'S DAY!
